AACC Human Service Students Begin New Internships at The Arundel House of Hope this Month

Prepared By Marsha Urban

Case Manager

School bells will be ringing soon for our children and also for those students at Anne Arundel Community College! Interns from AACC’s Human Services program will be completing an internship at Arundel House of Hope. They will work closely with the case managers and support staff to help serve those clients who come to us for help; they also take part in outreach and fundraising opportunities. The interns will gain knowledge of the population we serve and the services we offer. This experience provides future clinicians for work in the field. Some, like Brianne Adams and Asia Wood, will go on to become case managers or other support services at Arundel House of Hope. We are blessed to have such a wonderful partnership with Anne Arundel Community college to continue this opportunity.

Moving Forward at The Fosue Center!

Great things for great people are continuing to happen at The Arundel House of Hope’s Fouse Center. The Center’s staff is pleased to announce that already this year FOUR clients have successfully completed the program this year. This has been a wonderful accomplishment and has also enabled the center to welcome four new men to the facility to begin to engage in the life changing program. Congratulations to all of the graduates and good luck to all of the new participants!

A world of Thanks to The Catholic Campaign for Human Development for their support in assisting the Arundel House of Hope to continue to change lives with our social enterprise, The Doughy Dog. A business built to supportively employ the clients of the organization.

"The campaign offers 'not a hand out but a way out' of the poverty still gripping over 39 million Americans by funding programs where poor and marginalized people are empowered to make decisions, seek solutions to local problems and find ways to improve their lives and neighborhoods," becoming homeless and help those who are experiencing homelessness to be quickly re-housed and stabilized. The funds under this program are intended to target individuals and families who would be homeless but for this assistance.

Currently, Asia Wood-Case Manager with The Arundel House of Hope is providing Case Management services to 22 of Anne Arundel Counties HPRP participants. Ms. Wood works weekly with each client to develop and execute a plan of action to improve their current situation and ensure future success. This program is yet another example of The Arundel House of Hopes mission to end homelessness in Anne Arundel County Maryland.

19th Season of Providing Hope and Opening a New Health Clinic

An update from Phil Bailey, Director of Winter Relief

On October 18, 2010 The Arundel House of Hope will begin its 19th season of sheltering The Homeless of Anne Arundel County through the Winter Relief Program. This year the program will have 48 sheltering church sites and an additional 14 churches partnering with them to provide this years ministry. They hope to serve over 60 men and women each night of the season. It is truly hard to imagine a larger ecumenical ministry in the community. This sheltering season the program expects the number of guests served to increase over the number of guests served in last years season. Arundel House of Hope’s expanded Case Management services and the new Wellness and Care Center will result in an increase of Glen Day is "on his way"!

Glen Day, has several life changing events occurring in his life over the past several months. After recovering from a quadruple bypass surgery Glen has started to improve other areas of his life. Through the donation of services by a local dentist Glen is going regularly to dental appointments and will soon be receiving dentures. Glen volunteers at the Emmaus Center, a center in Glen Burnie where homeless guests can participate in bible study and prayer. Glen volunteers every day the Emmaus Center working at the front desk and preparing meals for the centers guests. Arundel House of Hope staff often works with those at the Emmaus Center in order to offer the best possible services to clients. Through receiving spiritual support from Father Ed Jansen and his wife Amma Trish Gaffney, who founded the Center, Glen is pursuing studies in Deaconship. In addition to those life changes Glen will be renewing his wedding vows with his wife in September. Glen looks forward to continuing to serve the needs of others and is thankful, as are the other residents of Safe Haven I & II, for Arundel House of Hope and their support services.

Great job Glen and thanks for your willingness to share your story!
